

It takes two to tango.

Public private innovation with Mobility Management

Formel M is a Public Private Innovation project on mobility management. The aim is to develop new methods and mind sets on traffic planning. Business as usual seems not to be an option. One new way is public private mobility networks that aims to improve accesibility, flexible transport, energy efficient modes and reduce congestion. The aims are shared between public and private institutions and the results will be a win win situation.

